Docket No. 257 dated 27th July 1891 from the Dy Comr of the Tumkur District Submitting proceedings regarding an appeal from Narasimhia and Ranganah about their partaking in the Hulbanni of Prabhavanahalli in the Gubbi Taluk.

It would appear from the papers received with the above that the Hulbanni of the village of Prabhavana-halli was from the year 1885-86 to the year 1888-89 apportioned among the villages of Prabhavana-halli, Shoolanahalli and Gubbi; that in the year 1889-90 the pasturage was held owing to dispute among the villagers; and that in the year 1890-91 ~~the~~ it was apportioned only among the resident villagers of Prabhoovanahalli. The appellants ~~are~~ reside in Shoolanahalli but own lands and house in Prabhoovanahalli. Two former Dy Comrs viz. Messrs Krishna Murti and Cress confirmed the apportionment of the hulbanni right among the villagers of the villages, but the present Dy Comr ordered that the resident villagers of Prabhoovanahalli alone ~~was~~ were entitled to the pasturage of their village on the ground that the villagers of Shoolanahalli (the appellants) not residing in Prabhoovanahalli were not entitled to it, as if the cattle tilling the soil in a village were not to graze in that village because they go to the nearest neighbouring Under section 40 of the L. R. Code there appears to be no appeal in this case.

It will appear from the report of the Amildar dated 10th October 1890 that appellants Rangiah does own lands in Prabhanavahalli village. The previous order on ~~mx~~ cress relied upon by appts laid down the principle that non-resident ryots of a village are entitled to share in the hulbanni of the village in proportion to the land held by them & is dated 31-3-90 Rangannah holds lands assessed at 21 Rs and Narsimiah holds lands assessed at 8 Rs though this is not proved by the evidence of their pattas the production of which would be more satisfactory. The Deputy Commissioner bases his order refusing to allow them to participate in the enjoyment of the hulbanni on the strength of two proceedings of Govt nos 2360-90 dated 16-7-84 and 655 6023-31 dated 29-1-85 village for rest after work.'

The above is a bird's-eye view of the case.

The following are ~~will be~~ quotations of references to the several statements contained in the above paragraph:—

(1) Statement of Hul-
-bunni takhta for the years 1884-85 to 1888-9 proves that the pasturage of the village of Prabhoo
-vanahalli was appor-
-tioned among the villages
of Prabhoovanahalli, Dholanahalli and Hale'Gubbi; that it was sold for the year 1889-90
and that it was appor-tioned only among the villages of Prabhoovana
-halli in the year 1890-91.

This Hulbanni Fakhta was prepared & signed by Venkata Row, Amildar of the Gubbi Taluk.

(2) The Dy Comrs order
No. 630/803 of the 24th October 1890 lays out the statements that the pasturage
of Prabhoovanahalli
was ordered to be sold owing to dispute among the villagers, and that it was apportioned only among the resident villagers of that village.

(3) The Dy Comrs' orders
Nos. 1016/1525 & 32 Dy 11/3/86 and 31-3-90 corroborate the statement that two former Dy Comrs. confirmed the apportionment of the Hulbanni right among the villagers
of Prabhoovanahalli &
Shoolanahalli.

The Amildar's order on the Petn of the villagers of Prabhoovana halli dated 20th Nov: 1889.

The grounds of appeal are as hereunder:—

I That tho' they reside in Dhoolanahalli they own lands and house in Prabhoovanahalli paying cundayam therefor to Govt.

II That the resident villagers of Prabhoovanahalli acquiesced in the apportionment of the pasturage of their village among them (appellants) from the beginning; but the inclusion in such apportionment of ryots outside of that village did not ~~some~~ owning any lands have led to dispute which ended in the exclusion of the appellants from the apportionment.

This latter result was brought about by the complaint of one Gudda who had spite against them.

III The complaint of Gudda was reported to the ~~Tahsildar~~ Dy Comrs office and resulted in confirming the apportion-ment of the pasturage in question among the villages of Prabhooviana
-halli & the Appellant.

IV That the Dy Comrs order now appealed against is contrary to the orders of two of his predecessors in office.
That the Amildar was wrong in reopening the case on the complaint

Petitioners

of Dhoolanalli
Gubbi Taluk.

Case under section 40 of the Land Revenue Code & Rule XII of the Revenue Rules - Regulation of use of pasturage.

The Dy: Comr's decision as to the right of pasturing under sec: 40 of the L.R. Code is final.

The Inhabitants of the Rabkavanalli village have from the year 1885-86 to 1888-89 appertained among the villages of Dhoolanalli Hale Gubbi. In 1889-90 the right to the pasturage was sold owing to dispute among the villagers. In

Rabkavanallil

1890-91 the pasturage was apportioned only among the resident villagers of Kalkavanahalli.
The appellants reside in Choolanhalli but own lands in Kalkavanahalli as shown hereunder —

1. Ranganna - Survey No 49 - 20 Rs. taken up in 1890-91
2. Narsinhappa 65 - 8 Rs. do - 89-90.

In the Patta produced Kalkavanahalli for Kalkavanahalli for 89-90 has been shown but omitted for 90-91. The 1st Petitioner appears to have been keeping Kalkavanahalli for the village from the year 1885-86. The Petitioners' Claim to have a share in the Kalkavanahalli as before.
The Deputy Com^r order appealed against is based upon Govt
Proc. —
1 - No 2360-90/55 dated 16th July 1884 - [illegible] valuation [illegible] - see 2 - No 6023-31/128 dated 29th Jany: 1885 - [illegible]

The Dy Com^r declined to grant Petitioners request because they do not reside in Kalkavanahalli.

The point in issue is -

Whether a non-resident Ryot owning lands in a village is entitled to the Hulbanni of the village or not.

The point was discussed at the Desava Assembly, 1891 - vide subject No: 193. The Dewans reply runs thus -

" No change in existing rule is necessary. Under the Land Rev. Rules the Dy Com'r has discretion to make necessary arrangements to reconcile all wants & interests as far as possible

The Petitioners allege that Shoolan Lalli was a Lambet attached to Rabbavanalalli but separated during the Survey Settlement.

Prabhavanahalli

Appts are the inhabitants of Dhulenahalli & the Respts of Prabhavanahalli — Formerly the former village was a hamlet of the latter village, but during the survey settlement, the two villages were separated & separate Inam lands assigned to each. Appellants hold lands in Prabhavanahalli, though they live in Dhulanhalli & claim right of grazing in the Hyllaumi lands of Prabhavanahalli — They appear to possess Pulla lands in their own village Dhulenhalli also. — The Respts object to the appellants grazing their cattle in these Hyllaumi lands, as hereunto they have their own

I think that the question

Ever since the Survey Settlement, the grass on the unoccupied Government lands was being put to public auction & knocked down to the highest bidder whoever he be; after the confirmation of the sale, the amount was distributed among the Ryots of the Village in proportion to the No. of Cattle owned by each of them, the Patel and the Shanbhog under-taking the collection. But an order was passed that Hulle Banni should not be put up to auction, but that the Hulle Banni amount should be distributed among the Ryots, and in obedience to this and Shanbhog and Patel continued to add the Hulle Banni amount to the petitioners Patta from Fasli 1314 to Fasli 1321. However the demand amount to the petitioners Patta from Fasli 1314 to Fasli 1321. However the authorities of the lower court, having now been petitioned by some of the Ryots anticipated by one Godda the petitioners enemy have set aside the petitioners' petition over the Hulle Banni. They therefore appeal against this and submit that:-

1. They lived in Rachavanahalli and have been for a long time enjoying the land bonds and the bonds of unoccupied government lands.

2. In Dolanahalli there is but one unoccupied Government land with an assessment of Rs. 6/-, excepting this, there is no Gomal. In this land a Hulle banni amount of Rs. 6/- has been fixed which is divided among the Petitioners and added on to their Patta.

3. They have no right over the Rachavanahalli waste lands and Gomal, as any other inhabitants of the place.

In support of these facts they submit for reference their Pattas of both the villa
